

JANUARY

January 28 – February 1, 2019

We are slowly making our way through the long month of January! We can do it! We can do it! I don't know about all of you but the winter weather this year seems crazy. Just about the time I figure it out, it goes completely in the opposite direction. At least we aren't going to get bored, right?!?!?

Important Events This Week:

- Kidz Have Rights Program 8:45-9:30am - Wednesday
- Homework Packet with #4.1, #4.2, and #4.3 Due – Wednesday

Many of the kid's headphones have broken over the course of the year from normal wear and tear. Could you check in with your child to see if theirs are still working? If they are not, would you be willing to send in another pair? It would be immensely helpful because they use those for all of our computer assessments throughout the year.

We have been working on double-digit subtraction quite heavily during Unit 4 of our math curriculum. Looking for ways to help your child? The best way is to practice simple subtraction facts with them periodically. Quiz them in the car, waiting in line at a store, or take 5 minutes every day to work on subtraction facts with them. As kids become more fluent with subtraction facts (to the point where they can automatically “spit” out the answer without having to use their fingers or spend time thinking), they will think that this double-digit subtraction method is SO MUCH EASIER!

Thank you for your help with this.

Thank you again, parents, for all of your support. Call anytime if you have questions.
