

October 15-19, 2018

Welcome to another fascinating week in Mrs. Finkbeiner's 2nd grade classroom!

Important Events This Week:

- Mornings with Mom and Mr. K – Tuesday from 7:50-8:20
- Homework Packet Due #1.12, #1.13, and #1.14 - Wednesday

Homework is being sent home this week. Look for 3 math homework sheets to come home on Wednesday and to be due the following Wednesday. Please remember to try to have your child read about 15-20 minutes a night as well.

In second grade, we, as teachers, strive to build independence among our students. There are several ways that you can help out with that. At this point in the year, students should be fairly comfortable with our routines and procedures regarding work sent home, homework, etc. I almost always go over what is sent home in folders, so I am hoping that your child takes on the responsibility of communicating that to you. I am very specific with my organization, procedures, and routines (as you can tell 😊), and I do those things to encourage independence in all of our learners. I know it can be difficult at first, but I have already seen some huge growth in this area for some students. Keep up the good work!

Looking ahead, our Halloween party will take place on Oct. 31, from 2-3. Please do NOT send your child dressed in their costumes to school that day. They will have plenty of time to get dressed up before the party begins. Thank you!

Thank you again, parents, for all of your support. Call anytime if you have questions.
